A withdrawal may be effectuated by the student's written notice or by the student's conduct, including, but not necessarily limited to, a student's lack of attendance.

Students withdrawing after the first session and before the 5th week of class will receive a prorated amount returned, not including fees. The refunded amount will be returned back to the student within 45 days from the time a school representative receives a signed request by a student to cancel a class. Students who wish to withdraw from the school must complete the proper form and email it to the registrar's office. A prorated amount may be refunded per description above, according to the number of classes which have transpired up until the date of cancellation.

If the student has received federal student financial aid funds, the student is entitled to a refund of moneys not paid from federal student financial aid program funds. Rhombus University does not participate in state or federal student financial aid. Thus, no refund of these funds would be forthcoming.
